Council Asks Emergency Air Service

Resolution Sent
CAB as Result of WAL Walkout

A special resolution, requesting passenger service from another airline now that Western Airlines is on strike, is on its way to the Civil Aeronautics Board today as a result of suggestion by Mayor Florian Boyd and unanimous approval by city council last night at their regular meeting.

Together with two resolutions of intervention, designed to bring better air service to the Village from all points in the United States, the request for special attention in the face of a complete lack of air service will ask CAB for use of facilities of United Airlines, or any airline willing and able to connect Palm Springs with Los Angeles.

UNITED WAS mentioned specifically because it is one of the airlines mentioned in the other resolutions. Palm Springs will intervene January 16 in favor of having service by United in making the Village a stop in their regular Las Vegas-Los Angeles flight.

The other resolution concerned the City of Phoenix. When that petition was originally drawn, and awaited approval of council, Western has since gone on record as wishing to be the airline serving Palm Springs through Phoenix.

Western filed a similar petition last June, but at that time Phoenix had not petitioned the CAB to be considered a stop in the same route as Palm Springs.

They now have done that, Western has reactivated its petition, United has filed its petition, and Palm Springs has filed intention to back the petitions by showing need for better air service.

BOYD SAID the strike, leaving the Village with no public flights in or out, is a perfect example of need for a second airline. He directed City Attorney Jerry Bunker to get it out in a hurry if possible, and added that if the petition requesting emergency service could get in the mail tomorrow, the planes should be flying very soon, perhaps even the next day.

Bunker said it would be longer than that, assuming approval. He reminded Boyd that letters take three or four days at least to get to Washington. "Remember, there's no air mail!" he said.

SAN FRANCISCO — San Francisco police began a drive today to rid the streets of petty criminals.

Police Chief George Healy ordered the 1,700 members of the force to arrest anyone who can be classified as a vagrant.

Revive Hope for Missing Missionaries in Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador — A U. S. Air Force helicopter whirled into the "green hell" jungles of eastern Ecuador today to determine the fate of three American Protestant missionaries feared slain by bloodthirsty Indians.

The "copter, flown in Wednesday from the Panama Canal Zone, will take off from Shell Mera, an oil camp which is the civilized outpost nearest the point where the missionaries' wrecked plane was sighted late Monday.

In New York, The National Broadcasting Company reported that Dave Garraway of the "Today" television show talked this morning with Clarence W. Jones in Quito. Jones indicated some hope for survivors.

IN RESPONSE to a question from Garraway as to whether he had heard anything new, Jones, president of the World Missionary fellowship, replied:

"Yes, Dave, I've just tuned in on the jungle network and got very encouraging word, the best we've heard in the last few days." Then he told how a commercial

School Land Plan Turned Down by City

Council Votes 4-3
Against Release of 10-Acre Tract

City council last night turned down a request made by the Palm Springs Unified School District and the Board of Education for 10 acres of land adjacent to the high school's present west boundary.

The school board and school district, represented by Helen Staley and Dr. Wallace Mueller, respectively, sat at the rear of the council chamber last night and heard discussion which ended in a 4 to 3 vote, denying their request to buy the Polo Ground parcel from the city.

Councilmen Earle Strebe, Ted McKinney and Frank Miller cast the assenting votes, and were overruled by Ruth Hardy, Jerry Sanborn, Jerry Nathanson and Mayor Florian Boyd.

THOUGH THE MOTION, made by Sanborn, was initiated as soon as the item was considered for action, discussion involving sale of one acre, five acres, and 10 acres if used for parking were brought before the council members.

As the result of a study made by Planning Director Hy Ranes and the planning commission a plan to sell one acre at the southeastern corner, and the money to be used to pave four adjoining acres for parking, was considered.

The one acre would have been used with land presently owned by the school district for the construction of an auditorium and music rooms.

The district's proposal had included use of the upper five acres for construction of a stadium, and adjoining parking.

Frank Miller suggested all ten acres be sold with the stipulation they be paved for parking, to be used jointly by the school district and public during civic functions.

SINCE THE REQUEST was for 10 acres, or nothing, none of the compromise suggestions worked.

Nathanson brought up the original proposal before the council, and after a motion to table the denied motion, which itself was denied, the denial was passed.

Then another motion, this time to direct Ranes to confer with the district and the board, was seconded and brought before council for discussion.

The third 4 to 3 vote was cast, the same members, Strebe, Miller and McKinney, assenting, and the proposal was dropped completely. The final vote was recorded less than a minute after the school representatives had walked out of the council chambers.

WITHOUT THE 10 acres in question, the school board will now be forced to look elsewhere

Wilson Outlines Vast New Guided Missile Program for United States Navy

Secretary Charles E. Wilson today disclosed a vastly expanded guided missile ship construction program as one means of increasing U. S. combat power.

He told the Senate Armed Services Committee that more money will be spent in the coming fiscal year on guided missiles and other "newer and more advanced weapons."

For example, he said, the Navy's shipbuilding program will be "heavily concentrated on new types" of ships, including six more atomic submarines, the first atomic-powered surface ship, and 18 warships capable of firing deadly guided missiles.

The program, he said, includes construction of 12 guided missile destroyers and frigates and the conversion of five light cruisers and a submarine as guided missile ships.

The "design and advance procurement" of an atom plant for a future supercarrier also is planned, he said, as well as construction of a sixth Forrestal class carrier with conventional power.

Theater and Shops Listed for New Site

A. M. Liebling Tells of Plans for Site
on Indian Avenue

By DON KLOTZBUECHER

Negotiations are now under way for leasing of the present Center parking lot, and eventually the entire 8-acre Agua Caliente bathhouse area, which if successful would be projected into a million dollar development.

Word of the present talks was made known by A. M. Liebling, president of Mutual Enterprises, Inc., prospective lessee. No definite agreement has been reached on either the parking lot lease, or the entire area.

The first part of the construction in the overall planned development, would be a $400,000 theater, completely modern and containing 1,400 seats.

LATER WOULD COME modern shops, which would develop the area around the theater. The shops would not be of the super market or drug variety, Liebling emphasized.

And, although no confirmation was forthcoming upon questioning, it can be taken as an established fact that the development would also cover a hotel constructed on the European spa theme.

Plans for the theater structure would be started as soon as the initial lease for the parking area is completed, Liebling said. Even though it is a short term lease, and not the 25-year variety, the plans will be drawn pending the longer term. Construction will not start though until a 25-year lease is signed.

ALTHOUGH THE theater will be spacious enough to accommodate large groups, such as conventions, no consideration has been given to the idea of providing exhibit space.

Mutual Enterprises owns the property across the street from the bathhouse area, with frontage on both Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue.

With this in mind, Liebling commented that "we don't expect opposition on this proposal because we know of no one else who would take a chance on construction of a $400,000 building on a 25-year lease basis."

"WE BELIEVE in the future of Palm Springs and the development of Indian Avenue as 'the' shopping street of Palm Springs," he added.

Liebling emphasized that no commitment has been given by the Agua Caliente Tribal Council or any individual, but that he had been promised that his offer would receive full consideration. It is expected to be discussed at the next meeting of the Tribal Council.

Old Airport and Luck Save Man in Light Plane

Luck and an old airport were with James E. Welch, of Pomona, yesterday afternoon when his light plane's engine flooded while over North Palm Springs and he was able to crash land without injury to himself or his plane.

According to police investigators who arrived at the landing scene on Caballeros at Amado Road, Welch was flying from Pomona to Palm Springs when the engine of his Aerona flooded.

HE WAS unable to make it to the airport, and spotted the abandoned landing strip in section 14. He crash-landed the little plane, called a mechanic, and after minor repairs, took the plane off with less than a 40 foot taxi run, and set down without incident at the airport.

BULLETIN — Commissioner of Indian Affairs Glenn L. Emmons, following a joint meeting of Palm Springs City Council, and Agua Caliente Tribal Council, this afternoon told a press conference that application of definite regulations concerning the 25-year leasing of local land may be held up as long as a year. A definite plan will be developed — and submitted for Indian approval — governing the overall situation and development before leases would be placed in effect, he added, after saying that no definite ideas were formulated here, but later admitted that a trusteeship was discussed. Emmons and other Indian Affairs officials left today after an afternoon meeting with the Citizens' Committee appointed last year by the Secretary of the Interior.

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department today announced that the six-year-old million dollar Brinks robbery at Boston has been solved. It said FBI agents today arrested six members of the gang responsible for the robbery. It said the FBI is still hunting two more members.

Fire Station Plan Meets with Protest

Threat of a temporary delay, or even a change of location, of the proposed new fire station, scheduled two weeks ago to be located on the old Safeway parking lot on the west side of Indian Avenue between Amado and Andreas Road, confronted city council last night in the form of a petition signed by approximately 50 names, some of them property owners and the rest tenants of the block in question.

Introduced by Councilman Earle Strebe, the petition said the former Peveler property, bought last Summer by the city for approximately $50,000, should be used as an off street parking lot, and another site bought by the city for the fire station.

It went on to say that the property in question is the only available parking facility to serve all business in that area not yet completely contracted and used, and its need as a lot is more pressing. The threat was blanketed however, when City Manager Robert W. Peterson told council that he had looked around for another similar lot for five station location, but was unable to make satisfactory progress.

With that in mind, council took no action on the petition and directed Peterson to continue the present planning for the fire station.

They also advised Strebe that if the petitioners were willing to form a parking assessment district, consideration might be given a solid request to allow them to buy the land from the city for parking, and the money be used for continued search and subsequent purchase of another fire station site.

$1.25 BILLIONS FOR U.S. SCHOOL AID ASKED

By BETTY PRYOR
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower asked Congress today to provide a total of 1 1/4 billion dollars in federal grants over the next five years to help build badly needed school rooms.

He said in a special message to Congress that the grants, at the rate of $50 million a year, should be matched with state funds to supplement local construction in the "neediest" school districts.

The request was the chief feature of a four-point federal aid program which Mr. Eisenhower said "should overcome the nation's critical classroom shortage within five years."

THE SHORTAGE NOW is estimated at 203,000 classrooms. The total program proposed by Mr. Eisenhower would amount to at least $2,020,000,000 in federal aid to public schools over five years.

For the federal grants Mr. Eisenhower proposed a formula which states "noticeably lagging" behind their ability to support public schools would get less federal aid. He said this feature "should act as an incentive for the lagging states to increase their effort."

He proposed that federal funds be distributed "according to relative need."

MR. EISENHOWER also called for 1.750 million dollars over five years for federal purchase of local school construction bonds when school districts cannot sell them in private markets at reasonable interest rates.

2. Federal backing to help provide reserves for bonds issued by state school financing agencies. The President put no price tag on this feature of the five-year program. He said these bonds would finance local construction of schools to be rented and eventually owned by local school systems.

3. 20 million dollars in matching grants to the states over five years for planning ways to overcome obstacles to financing school construction.

Negotiations to End WAL Strike Offered Air Line

LOS ANGELES — Western Air Lines officials today considered the possibility of meeting with union leaders and the Los Angeles Central Labor Council in an attempt to settle a strike which has halted operations in 12 Western states and Canada.

The council has invited management and labor officials to meet tomorrow at 2 p.m. to discuss methods of resuming negotiations leading to a settlement.

Union leaders called the strike Monday for 850 reservation clerks, members of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, in a dispute over wages.

The airline has shut down operation of its 5525-mile system and is furloughing employees in order to reduce payrolls. More than 2,000 workers are idle.

Picketing of the carrier's installations here and in 45 major West Coast cities has proceeded peacefully, according to Lyle McKinney, BRC Grand Lodge representative.

City Dims Bright Lights

Council OKs Ordinance to End Hazard

An urgency ordinance, requiring conformance within 30 days to regulations regarding shielded illuminating and advertising lighting throughout the city, was passed unanimously last night by city council on the recommendation of City Manager Robert W. Peterson and City Attorney Jerry Bunker.

According to Bunker, the ordinance would limit excessive light rays from shining on public streets and other private property in the interest of public health, welfare and safety.

The state law stipulates that direct rays shining on public roads constitutes a safety hazard, and the city's interpretation has led to the law requiring that all bulbs, shining so as to be seen directly from streets and other private property, shall be shielded or removed within 30 days.

The regulation was enacted on an urgency basis because the winter season, which is already under way, would be over if regular channels were employed for passage.

Weather Plays Odd Pranks in Nation Today

(By UNITED PRESS)

Frankish weather made kissing shocking in St. Louis and gave Florida sunbathers goose pimples today.

But the strange, static combination of storm, cold, and drought also had its deadly serious side. Crop losses in frost-bitten Florida mounted to 25 million dollars. A rash of cold weather fires killed seven persons, five of them children, in the Southland. And a major drought threatened the Great Plains.

In St. Louis, where there have been 41 straight days without rain, practically everything and everybody tingle with static electricity.

Couples gave each other shocks when they exchanged kisses and department stores reported another problem — shocking sweaters. The electricity and magnetism made even the biggest sweaters formfitting, store employees said.

Florida residents had troubles of a different and more serious sort. Weathermen forecast at least two more days of biting cold, with scattered frost predicted in most farming areas.

Dade County farmers lost 13,000 acres of winter vegetables worth 10 million dollars and estimated losses on 16,000 acres in Palm Beach and Collier counties rose to 15 million dollars. As a result, prices of tomatoes, corn, squash, beans, and other tender vegetables jumped.

Resort hotel owners also felt the cold's pinch. Any guest who tried to sunbathe was in danger of catching the sniffles and the fact that New England's temperatures were often as warm as Florida's didn't help matters.

Asphyxiation caused by an electric heater was blamed for at least one death in Florida and there was a rash of fatal fires across the chilled Southland.

FARTHER NORTH, ice-slicked highways had been blamed for at least 12 deaths since the start of the week and there was still a deadly mixture of rain, freezing rain, and snow from Maine to northern Alabama and Georgia.

The freakish weather extended across the nation to San Francisco where a thick, impenetrable ground fog covered the bay area like cotton. Air traffic was disrupted, auto headlights were unable to stab through the white glare, and at least one death was blamed on the fog.

U. S. weather experts said the strange combination of weather was caused by two stagnant storm systems which have been hanging off the Atlantic and Pacific coasts since Sunday. These were coupled with a high pressure system over the plains and Rockies which spread dry, drought-threatening weather.

Battle to Save Village Visitor Proves in Vain

Despite efforts of police officers, a fire department rescuer, and an emergency injection of a stimulant into the heart by a physician, death overcame George Friend, 60, of 601 East Andreas Road, after he collapsed this morning in his trailer.

The deceased and his wife arrived at the trailer park this week after driving from Newport.

Though an official cause of death has not been filed by the coroner at this time, previous heart trouble led officials to believe a heart attack to cause death.

He was taken to Wiegels and Sons mortuary by ambulance, where deputy coroner Robert Drake will make an examination.

Mrs. Friend is his only survivor in this area.

for property adjacent to present high and junior high school property. The north and south boundaries are abutted by developed land, leaving them no alternative but to attempt to purchase some or all the 40 acres between their land and St. Theresa School.

They had considered the eastern parcel a secondary choice. According to the district's master plan, the pupils at the school could be best served by having their auditorium at the western edge of their facility. The plan was approved by the school board as being the most time saving and theoretically perfect layout.

Construction of the auditorium and football field to the east is a second choice, with apparently some disadvantages.

Babe in Arms

Draftee Took Too Long in Last Kiss

CARRARA, Italy (U)—Egisto Marchi, a draftee, arrived at an Italian army barracks with his baby son clasped tightly in his arms.

The new soldier explained to smiling guards that the train moved out of his home town station while he was kissing the 10-month-old baby goodbye.

The barracks adjutant turned the baby over to the chaplain until Marchi's wife arrives to take the child home.

If passed would become a test case before an appellate court. He said he was sure the decision would be in favor of Palm Springs.

Council then made plans to meet again next week to officially approve the final draft of the ballot during a special meeting. The reason for the special meeting is to conform with a legal time factor.

Following the January 18 meeting, the $3,555,000 proposition, adding more than a 50 per cent tax rate increase, will be up to the people of Palm Springs.

SCHOOL MESSAGE

THE PRESIDENT also asked for a "major" but unspecified increase in funds for the office of educational research. He said "this has been a sorely neglected field."

He asked Congress to continue providing federal funds for school construction in districts near federal bases and other government installations where school enrollments have increased sharply. The present law aiding such districts expires next June.

Although states and local communities are "substantially increasing their classroom construction," the President said, many communities "simply do not have available locally the resources needed to cope both with the legacy of shortages from past years and with future needs."

"Unless these communities get help, they simply cannot provide enough good schools," he said.

HE NOTED THAT the recent White House conference on education concluded that federal aid is necessary, along with more effort by local and state governments, to increase the rate of classroom construction.

"The facts support this conclusion," he said.

"I am confident the federal government with this program can help construct schools without in any way weakening the American tradition that control of education must be kept close to the local communities," the President said. "Any legislation enacted should embody this principle."

MR. EISENHOWER emphasized that the proposed program of federal grants "can and must terminate" as soon as the critical classroom shortage is met. He said this should be in five years. His "incentive" formula for distributing federal grants would reduce the proportion of federal funds "for those few states which are noticeably lagging, behind their ability, to support their public schools."

Because many state legislatures will not meet this year, the President said.

Donations to Gov't Will be Made Legal

WASHINGTON (U)—Do you feel that the government doesn't take a big enough cut out of your paycheck? Would you like to contribute something extra towards reduction of the national debt? You can if Congress approves legislation introduced by Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) It would authorize the Treasury to accept donations specifically marked for retiring the federal debt.

dent recommended that federal funds be matched by either states or local school districts during the first year of the proposed five-year grant program.

IN PROPOSING that grants be distributed according to relative needs, the President said government funds "will most quickly accomplish the most good" if a relatively larger share goes to areas with the least financial resources.

He proposed a three-way formula for determining need: 1. Larger amounts per school age child be allotted to states with lower income per child. 2. States with lower income would not be required to put up as large a proportion of matching funds as higher income states. 3. States should give highest priority to its poorest school districts in distributing the grants.

He expressed the "earnest hope" that states and communities give increasing attention to obtaining more good teachers. He said the pay for too many teachers is "not commensurate with their work and their role in American life."

FEDERAL SCHOOL AID legislation has been promised top priority in the House where a Democratic plan already is before the Rules Committee.

The Democratic-sponsored plan would provide for $1,600,000,000 in federal grants over a four-year period. The Democratic plan also would authorize the Education Commissioner to allot funds to states solely on the basis of their school-age population.

School aid legislation is headed for a fight over an anti-segregation amendment which Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) has promised to introduce and over the question whether aid also should be provided for parochial schools.

Family Attitude on Ike Candidacy is Big Factor

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (U)—The substantial majority of White House news reporters who are convinced that President Eisenhower will not run again are much influenced by the attitude of the family.

Long before Mr. Eisenhower was stricken, Washington was discussing the report that Mrs. Eisenhower opposed a second term. She was said to be supported by her son, Maj. John S. Eisenhower, and by her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Reports on the family attitude toward a second term appear to be solidly founded. All hands, however, do not give the same weight to the influence of the President's family upon his political decisions. It has been revealed now that Mr. Eisenhower has discussed his political future with some of his associates and plans to explore the subject much further with them. He said so last Sunday at Key West.

SOME OF HIS TOP political associates, among whom would be several most likely to have been in on the discussions, recently have been getting together to canvass the 1956 prospects. Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, several cabinet members and at least one former Army comrade were parties to the various exchanges.

It was their judgment, perhaps based on ideas some of them had exchanged with the President, that his son and wife would have little to do with his final decision on a second term. It is quite obvious that family opposition has not yet persuaded Mr. Eisenhower to close the door to another campaign for the White House.

HE HAS SAID he has not finally made up his mind. Now comes James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, with some carefully chosen words of comment on the fact that Mr. Eisenhower's name will be presented in the Illinois presidential primary. Illinois Gov. William G. Stratton announced Wednesday that he would enter Mr. Eisenhower as a Republican presidential candidate. Hagerty said there would be no statement of assent or dissent from the White House on Stratton's plan. He emphasized, as did Mr. Eisenhower at Key West, that no "ultimate decision" has been made and, Hagerty added: "That decision he, and he alone, will make."

The first men to fly around the world non-stop did it in 10 minutes. Adm. Richard E. Byrd and Floyd Bennett, on May 9, 1926, flew to the North Pole and circled it, crossing all the meridians of longitude in one full turn.

Deny Ike to Go to GOP Session

WASHINGTON (U)—The White House said today it made "absolutely no" request that a San Francisco military hospital prepare a suite for President Eisenhower's possible use during the Republican Convention in August. President Press Secretary James C. Hagerty angrily denied a statement to that effect yesterday by Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okl.).

Kerr had said that Republicans are "so alarmed about their own low political reserve they plan to bring Ike to the GOP convention, even if he has to stay in Letterman General Hospital which reportedly is preparing a suite for him."

Reporters asked Hagerty if there had been any White House request for a suite.

"Absolutely none at all," Hagerty replied emphatically. "There never has been, and that information has been relayed to the commanding general of the hospital."

BOND ELECTION

$100 of each taxpayer's assessed property.

Council members, realizing the load about to be put up to the voting public for approval, felt they should preface their assenting votes with their personal feelings.

They, in general, said they felt it was a burden, but they also felt the voters had a right to approve or deny bond issuance, and the council's only right was to give them that opportunity.

Only Mrs. Hardy and McKinney felt all the items were very necessary, and far outweighed, by their importance and potential good, the load imposed by elevated taxes. They spoke as taxpayers themselves, and said that as taxpayers they would have to pay more than they ever had before, but that it would be the best thing for the village, and worth the sacrifice.

PETERSON READ a letter from Noel Clarke, reported last week in The Desert Sun, re-offering 140 acres for a golf course site on Section One at no cost to the city.

McKinney said one of the reasons Clarke felt the offer needed reinstatement was because he misunderstood the language of the proposal. Clarke apparently thought the passage of the issue meant the city would have to spend the money for the land. Such is not fact. They merely will have it in case they find a suitable piece of property.

Councilman Jerry Nathanson suggested a letter of thanks for the offer, with an explanation that his proposal would be reconsidered, and that if the $350,000 set aside for golf course land purchase need not be used, then the bonds would be sold, and there would be no cost to the taxpayers for that item. His suggestion was approved heartily by council, and direction was made.

THROUGH INFORMATION received yesterday afternoon, within hours of the scheduled passage deadline, it was learned by council, from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, that rights-of-way through Section 14 for the proposed item No. 7, construction and pavement of McCallum Way, were in no way as available as originally thought when the issue was added by heated public request to the bond ballot.

During a meeting between council and the national Indian agents it was disclosed that the Indians had no thought of disposing of the rights-of-way in the allotted land area of eastern Section 14.

City Attorney Jerry Bunker said the issue should be left as is, and PROGRESS ON THE addition to Cathedral City school is moving rapidly ahead, as foundations and structures begin to outline the new buildings. This is the first use of the $2,125,000 school bond issue. The structure at the right will be the new cafeteria, and at the left is the start of the classroom addition.

Federal Reimbursement for Wetback Care Urged

A recommendation by the Riverside County Grand Jury that the board of supervisors take prompt action to adopt a resolution to the State Legislature urging that the Federal Government be charged with maintenance of illegal Mexican entrants and their families, was received by the supervisors Wednesday and referred to county counsel.

The recommendation was presumed to come from Dr. Benjamin Goldberg of Palm Springs, Grand Jury foreman, though it was unsigned and was neither in the form of a resolution or a letter.

In the period between July of 1953 and July of 1955, according to the communication, the county welfare department spent over $53,000 "because of illegal entries." The expenditures, it said, are not on the wetbacks themselves, but on the families, some resulting from marriage with U. S. citizens, and some without marriage, becoming charges of the county welfare department.

Cost to the county hospital resulting from the illegal Mexican entries, according to the report, was $13,165.05 for the two year 1953-55 period, and $17,126 for the preceding year. This was in addition to the $53,000 welfare department costs.

The recommendation pointed out that the sheriff keeps a record of the cost of room and board of wetbacks apprehended and held until time of deportation, and is reimbursed by the Federal Government. It was suggested that if the sheriff's department can do it, other departments should be able to.

PALM DESERT

By GRETCHEN CHEESEMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Kay Oleson have announced the marriage of their daughter, Karen to Mr. Russell Whitcomb of Palo Alto. The young couple will reside in San Jose where they both will continue their studies at San Jose State College.

Gary Oleson was home from Menlo College for the holidays. His house guests over the New Year holiday included a classmate Justin Berglund of Menlo Park and the Misses Marjorie Bowes and Lyn Bosley.

The big event of the month, will be the Palm Desert Womens Club luncheon fashion show at Shadow Mountain Club. This will really be an outstanding production called "Fashions for Fun in the Desert." There will be a complimentary door gift for every lady attending — a lovely new cosmetic creation called "Flowing Velvet" originated by Jackie Cochran — this charming lady will be one of the guests of the house. Added prizes will be five lovely dresses donated by Mrs. Isabelle Belyea, owner and manager of the Poolside "Clothes Horse" and this establishment, under Mrs. Belyea's personal supervision, will show all the swim suits, casual cottons, cocktail and dancing frocks, complete with fur wraps and jewelry — the models will be Kay Malone, Dottie Blades, Jean Ahrens, Karen Allabaugh, Marilyn Harstad, Juanita Bosworth and Evelyn Sahland. Chuck Travis, well-known pianist will set the musical background. Mrs. Dorothy Pierson and Mrs. Ella Lu Kapp are co-chairmen. Mrs. Viola Brooks is in charge of decorations, and Mrs. Edward Ruge in charge of tickets. Table reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Ruge, Palm Desert, 76-4461. A record crowd is expected, so get your call in as early as possible.

Mrs. David Dial (Priscilla Allen) has arrived home for two months while her husband is on sea duty with the navy. This couple were married three months ago in the east and both came home for the holidays.

The first "Coronation Night" took place, Monday night, January 9. As usual, Shadow Mountain Club was packed for this unusual and charming occasion — Johnny Boyle took over the entertainment as only he can do — There were the usual three Princesses and Queen chosen by numbers — This is a family party as the "young fry" as pages, pull the lucky number out of the glass bowl.

The International Lions will hold a banquet at Shadow Mountain Club on Monday, January 23. This will celebrate the 30th anniversary of the Coachella Lions Club. The International president, Mr. Umberto Valenzuela, G. of Santiago, Chile will be the honored speaker — This will take place of the usual "Coronation Night."

Hearing Set on February 14

RIVERSIDE—February 14 was set by the county board of supervisors Wednesday as date for a hearing on a proposed zoning amendment ordinance. They are briefly as follows:

1. To include dog kennels among those uses requiring permits for establishment and operation. A dog kennel is defined as any lot or premises on which five or more dogs over four months old are kept for boarding, breeding, training or marketing.

2. To include the planning director among names of officials responsible for the enforcement of the zoning ordinance.

3. To require the planning commission to report to the board of supervisors on nonconforming use permits with final action resting with the board. The planning commission action is to be final unless within ten days after the commission has notified the board of supervisors an appeal is made to the board. Filing fee for a nonconforming use permit is to be five dollars.

Desert Sentries to Discuss Preventive Steps Tuesday

The Desert Sentries, an organization of Palm Desert Residents who are committed to take an "aguard action relative to things affecting Palm Desert, will meet at 8 p. m., Tuesday, January 17, in the Palm Desert Community Church.

"Preventive rather than corrective action" will be the theme of the evening's discussion.

Mrs. Eleanor Germeaux, chairman, and Don Hunter, co-chairman, will give a resume of the Sentries accomplishments and present the current and future objectives, which include speed limits, flood control, highway lighting, police patrolling and the expansion of the group's beautification program for Highway 111 through Palm Desert.

In December the Sentries spearheaded a clean-up campaign which was successfully conducted with the co-operation of the Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce and the Palm Desert Boy Scouts, numbering 75 volunteer workers who later were the guests of Cliff Henderson at a coffee and doughnut break at Firecliff Lodge. These clean-up days will be repeated at intervals.

Representatives of the Desert Sentries and of the Palm Desert Woman's Club appeared before the board of supervisors in Riverside on December 27 to oppose the proposed ore mill petition and while the petition for the ore mill was approved, the action of the Palm Desert group helped result in some ten restrictions being placed upon the ore mill's operations, such restrictions being in the interests of the protection of residential and resort property.

Next Tuesday's meeting, the matter of how most effectively to deal with further encroachments by industry on the area will be taken up. Captain Sam Hoffman of the Indio Sheriff's office will speak on additional police patrol.

Zoning Request Cancelled in DHS

Charles P. Sakin of Palm Springs, secretary-treasurer of Fine Homes, Inc., has asked for and been granted by the county planning commission a cancellation of petition for change of zone from single family R-1 to general residential R-3 in the Desert Hot Springs area.

The property for which the zoning change had been asked is between Mesquite and Verbena streets and running from a point half way between Acoma and Buena Vista streets to Desert View.

Notice of the cancellation was received and filed by the board of supervisors Wednesday.

Entry Deadline for County Fair Set for Jan. 25

INDIO—People planning to enter exhibits or displays for competition in the Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival, February 16 to 22 inclusive, are reminded that the dead line for filing entries is January 25.

To qualify, all exhibitors must comply with State rules governing district and county fairs, as defined in the 1955 premium list issued by the Riverside County Fair Board.

While some classes are limited to residents of Riverside county,

Fair Manager Robert Fullenwider announced that many departments are also open to exhibitors from San Bernardino, Orange, Imperial, San Diego and Los Angeles counties.

The junior department is restricted to members of the Future Farmers of America, Future Homemakers of America, 4-H Clubs, and members of other recognized junior farm organizations in the above listed counties.

Copies of the premium list and entry blanks may be obtained at either the County Fairgrounds at Indio or Riverside county chambers of commerce.

It looks high priced

...but it's the '56 Chevrolet!

THE NEW BEL AIR SPORT COUPE—one of 19 high-priced-looking Chevrolet models.

Who wouldn't mistake this handsome new Chevrolet for a high-priced car!

It looks strictly "upper bracket" with its bold new Motoramic styling... its longer, lower, hood... its proud new full-width grille.

Even the details would do credit to an expensive car... like the sleek, high-fashion taillights (the left one conceals the gas cap!).

But, even beyond the costly appearance of its Fisher Body, Chevy gives the high-priced cars a run for their money.

You'll see what we mean when you take one out on the highway. You'll feel the added security of Chevrolet's nailed-down stability. You'll thrill at the way it wheels around tight turns—as footsure as a cat on a carpet!

When you need a quick sprint for safer passing — you've got it! V8 horsepower now ranges all the way up to 205. All engines now have hydraulic-hushed valve lifters.

Besides, you get safety door latches in all models. You can also have seat belts, with or without shoulder harness, and instrument panel padding at extra cost.

There's a new Chevrolet just made for you to have fun with! So come on in and highway-test it.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETS

The Cathedral City Senior Women's Club met Tuesday at the home of club president, Mrs. Claude Cobb, of Tamarisk Country Club. With Mrs. Cobb presiding, club business in general was given attention and future activities were discussed. The next meeting will take place on the usual Wednesday. Circumstances prevented the club from meeting at its usual time this month.

Annexation or Incorporation to be Discussed at Meeting

CATHEDRAL CITY — One of the most important questions to arise in this area annexation to the City of Palm Springs, incorporation or the formation of a service district, will be the chief item thrown to open discussion by local residents at the meeting which will follow the pot-luck supper that will be held January 17 at the Town Hall.

The question as to what stand to take, has been a big topic of discussion and argument on the streets, in places of business, and at organizational meetings.

Plans call for an old fashioned Town Hall meeting Tuesday night beginning with a pot-luck dinner at 6:30—bring your own table service, coffee will be provided by the Chamber of Commerce.

The general meeting will be called to order at 8 p. m. and anything and everything concerning the problems of the community and plans for civic betterment will be on the agenda.

A district representative of the post office department will attend to discuss proposals for city mail delivery.

He went directly to Dr. John R. Beukema who sent him to Desert Hospital for a physical checkup.

Last night Potter had returned home, where he felt much better, and it was reported that he would return to the hospital for further diagnosis this morning. The cause of his illness was not explained.

Taxi Stand Asked for Cathedral City

Advised by the State Division of Highways that special zonings for taxi stands on state highways must be regulated by a county ordinance.

E. M. and Allegra Walters asked the supervisors Wednesday for permission to mark off space for one car on Highway 111 in Cathedral City where they are starting a taxi service.

The request was referred to the county road department.

TUESDAY CLUB MEETS

"The Second Tuesday Club" enjoyed a dinner hosted by Mrs. Howard Deason at her home Tuesday evening. Present for the affair were Mesdames Walter Colclater, Ralph Hammer, Carl Jackson, Robert Sherrill, Sam

Wagner, Carl Mayfield, and Byron McQueen. Scrabble was substituted for the usual card game enjoyed by the ladies during the evening.

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAYS

A double birthday was celebrated in the teachers lounge at the Cathedral City school for Mrs. Billie Lyrin and Mrs. Mary Lou Russell with members of the faculty as guests for the affair. Ice-cream, cake and coffee were served to honor the occasion. Ruby Anderson, cafeteria manager, and Mrs. Ferol McQueen were in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Lyrin is combination first and second grade teacher, and Mrs. Russell teaches fourth grade.

Verhaeren Paintings Exhibited at Pueblo

PALM DESERT — A one-man showing of paintings by artist Carlos Verhaeren of La Jolla is now on exhibit at the Desert Magazine Pueblo here.

Verhaeren, an outstanding artist, will on Saturday, January 14, give a demonstration of portrait painting, using only a palette knife. The demonstration is scheduled for 2 p. m.

CATHEDRAL CITY — Today, merchants of this area begin their campaign and enter into competition for the business of the Desert Empire.

Merchants of this community are the first in the area to act toward the goal of making the daily Desert Sun their home town newspaper, and along with the daily "on the spot" coverage of this community, every Thursday an entire page, or better, will carry Cathedral City news.

Orval Risvold, circulation manager of The Desert Sun, announced that this edition will be delivered to every resident of Cathedral City residing on the carrier routes, to initiate the start of this progressive move by local businessmen.

TODAY, CATHEDRAL CITY Market takes the top of the list of local advertisers, with the beginning of a campaign to merchandise the products of the largest and most complete food market in town.

For better than 15 years, owned and operated by Ray G. Potter, the store has progressed from its small town country store building (next door to its present location) into the super market at its present location.

The store is managed by Dick Strandgaard, who has been with Potter for the past 10 years, and whose genial personality and helpful ideas promotes the success of the market.

The meat department, under separate ownership, is operated by owner-butcher Harry Estel, who does not have to build up the quality of his meat products, for his many customers have learned that the meat available there is the finest available.

OTHER MERCHANTS, beginning a complete campaign today are: Scott's, Cordes Floorcovering, Rupp's Supply, Young's Shoe Mart, Paul Clark Realty and Insurance, Citizens Bank, Music Center, Desert Tent and Awning, Rainbow Room, Fred Hepner, Desert TV, and O. K. Rubber Welders.

This special page of The Sun will take in businesses within the areas of Cathedral City, Tramview, Palm Springs Heights, Sunair, Eagle Canyon, and as far down as Thunderbird Country Club.

UNDERGOES SURGERY
Mrs. Robert Allred was taken to the Desert Hospital Saturday where she underwent surgery. At present she is doing very well, and is expected to be at home the first part of the week.

Potter Returns from Hospital

CATHEDRAL CITY — Ray G. Potter, well-known local business man and owner of the Cathedral City Market, was taken suddenly ill yesterday and collapsed on the job.

He went directly to Dr. John R. Beukema who sent him to Desert Hospital for a physical checkup.

Last night Potter had returned home, where he felt much better, and it was reported that he would return to the hospital for further diagnosis this morning. The cause of his illness was not explained.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR SUPERVISOR — It is very important to the future welfare of Palm Springs and vicinity who is appointed to represent the Fourth District on the Board of Supervisors in the place of Homer Varner who died suddenly last week. Some have suggested that the man should be a resident of Palm Springs, the largest city in the district. That is not necessary — not even important. What we do want is a man well qualified for this difficult job.

There are several reasons why the post is a difficult one and requires special qualifications for success. To begin with, the district is extraordinarily large, running all the way to the Colorado River. There's lots of ground to cover. Then too, there's the all important fact that this large and fastest growing section has only one supervisor — one vote out of five. This man must see to it that the interests and needs of this section of the county are recognized.

In making recommendations to Gov. Goodwin Knight, who will make the appointment, these qualifications should be carefully considered:

- 1) The person should have lived in the Fourth District for some time and have a thorough knowledge of the problems of the Desert Area.
- 2) He should understand well the immediate needs of this resort and agricultural empire and be able to envision future need.
- 3) He should be a man experienced in administrative work so he can accept his full responsibility of directing the efficient operation of the county government.
- 4) He should have had adequate business experience and be capable of making prompt decisions.
- 5) He must, of course, be a man of unquestioned honesty and integrity, and of high moral character.

That's quite a big order. On top of all this the man will have to face an election in a few months—he MUST be willing to run for the office next Spring. He should accept the appointment only with the idea in mind that he will be willing to seek re-election several times. Years of experience on the board are important to the county in general and the district in particular.

There are no doubt several well qualified men who are willing to take on this rather tough job and carry on where Homer Varner left off. Although the post will be filled by appointment this time, the man must not only be willing to run but stand a very good chance of being elected.

It would be wise if a group of public spirited and influential citizens in this area get together and study the possible "candidates" and make a recommendation of the group to Gov. Knight for his consideration.

PRIVATE — FIRST CLASS — That was a heart-warming story out of Seoul the other day. An American soldier named Fritz Moller, 22, of South Bend, Indiana, got into trouble because he was almost daily "off-limits," used an Army jeep without permission and "misappropriated" military supplies. It all had to do with an orphanage he had personally established and maintained for 30 Korean kids.

Pfc. Moller used $500 of his own money to buy land and build the orphanage. He installed the youngsters. But the village where he set up his one-man institution was out of bounds. He had once commandeered a jeep without asking, and some of the orphanage supplies were not requisitioned in the proper way. Looked as if he was in a brass pincers "but good."

Military red tape gets plenty of criticism. But it can fall apart on occasion like a bamboo hut in a hurricane. All of a sudden, it developed, the orphanage was not off limits, the jeep and supply incidents were found all a misunderstanding. The small Korean casuals stayed housed under Moller's care.

This is not a Christmas story. It is just an incident in routine report. Private Moller is scheduled to return to the United States early next year and is concerned over the fate of his orphans. There'll be other Yanks around. We don't think he need worry.

THIS SIDE of The Sun

Tomorrow's the day to keep fingers crossed — Friday, the thirteenth, the day I get lost.

This year has three such jinx combinations — this month, in April and in July. Also three near misses with the 13th either just before or just after Friday. And last year there was only one Friday, the Thirteenth. But I won't have to worry about tomorrow for Donald Klotzbuecher takes care of this piece on Fridays.

BILL FADDEN tells me that what I had about him in one of these compositions last week, started a veritable flow of absent-minded anecdotes. That piece detailed how Fadden couldn't get into his apartment which he had been unlocking for many years and had to call a locksmith. The locksmith looked over the situation and told Bill to turn his key right side up. He was trying to put the key in upside down. It cost him $3 for his lapse. Since then, many people have told him of like experiences. Two of them had similar tales. Both have automobiles in which the starter is depressed to the floor. Both found themselves out late at night and the starter wouldn't work. They called emergency service, getting Kenny Paul out of bed. And both felt equally embarrassed and red-faced when Kenny told them that if they'd step on the accelerator instead of the brake, the car would start.

AND ALSO CAME this tale of a real absent-minded professor. This man was formerly a professor and now is taking it easy in a trailer in Palm Springs. And even though living in Palm Springs, he always wears a hat. The other day, he started to clap it on his head and couldn't find it. He felt lost all day. That night as he was planning to go uptown the next morning and buy himself a new hat, he decided on a glass of milk before retiring. In the refrigerator was his hat. On the table was the carton of milk — where it had been since breakfast. He just iced the wrong article.

ONE BAD PRACTICE local autoists have is still believing that this is a small village and traffic is like it used to be in years gone by. They turn into side streets in the outlying districts, cutting the corners as short as they can. There have been many near-misses, because Palm Springs is growing mightily and you never know at which corner you are going to meet another car. Which reminds me that one little letter can change the word 'corner' to 'corner.' I note in "Mechanics Illustrated," January issue, that a manufacturer is putting out three-way spurs for women. They fasten on the toes, heels and back of the ankle. They are not for equestrian pursuits. But to repel the advances of unwelcome gentlemen. That should rowl them.

ANOTHER NEW INVENTION which should be popular in some circles, is a new brand of toothpaste. It comes in Rye, Bourbon or Scotch flavors.

Congressional Report

By Representative John Phillips

Last week's letter got a little ahead of itself when it announced the next one would be about the allowances of a Congressman. I think we'd better get our "M. C.-elect" sworn in first, don't you? Otherwise he won't have any rights at all!

The new Representative will want, of course, to invite his family and friends to see him sworn in. This is the biggest event in most of our lives. So the second shock is the discovery that he can't do it; he will have one ticket for the gallery and thus a place for one relative or friend.

The House of Representatives has the larger of the two Chambers, naturally, so when the President comes down to read his annual "State of the Union" message, (usually the second day after we convene,) or when we have a distinguished visitor, and we know a lot of people will want to be there, the Doorkeeper (one of the traditional major employees of the House) is authorized to issue tickets to the gallery, and each Member, old or new, gets one ticket.

THE NEW MEMBER will not expect, I hope, to have a ticket issued him for a seat on the front row, or even in the sections directly in front of the rostrum on which the Speaker will sit, and from which a visitor will speak. He might as well face it, he is putting his foot on the lowest rung of a ladder whose rungs are marked "conventions" and "customs," and his tickets, for the first Congress, will probably be in the far corner, and the ticket holder will have to crane his neck to see what is going on. But there will be no complaint; even to get in the door is to witness some of the most interesting and certainly some of the historic events of this era.

This same limitation applies to the convening of each new Congress; one ticket per Member. It will not apply when the Congress convenes for the second session, as we did ten days ago. We just met, call the roll and adjourn. The first session, which follows the national election, involves the vote for the Speaker, and for the other officers, and the swearing-in of all the Members.

EACH PARTY HAS met the afternoon before and decided on its candidates for these offices, as well as its own party leadership, the Floor Leader and the Whip. This is largely perfunctory as the election has indicated the majority and therefore which party would "organize the House" and who would be the Speaker.

We will probably never again have the situation which developed in 1930 when the Republican party elected enough members to control the House, but in the intervening months, before actual organization (Congress met then in the Fall of the following year) several Republican Members-elect died and Democrats had been elected in their places. Control went to that party. A party could of course have so small a majority that even in two months, deaths or illness on the 3rd of January, could change the majority and lose the control.

The oath of office is first administered to the Speaker by a Member of his choice, usually the oldest in seniority from his own party. The roll has already been called; in fact it has been called twice. The first time the Member answered "here," and the second time, on the vote, he answered by calling out the choice of his party for Speaker, for example, "Rayburn" by the Democrats and "Martin" by the Republicans. So the Speaker, after taking the oath, raps for the Members to rise; he tells them to raise their right hands, and he reads the familiar oath:

"I DO SOLEMNLY swear that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God."

The Members individually, but speaking en masse, reply "I do."

Reports on Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — Is television really killing off the movies? Darryl Zanuck tells me no and to prove it 20th-Fox will invest in excess of $20,000,000 this year for the production of 34 movies! ... Margaret O'Brien enrolled for dramatic lessons, first she's ever taken ... Evie Johnson borrowed a crazy Balenciaga gown from Roz Russell to wear in a Slenderella commercial ... There are 26 expose magazines on the newsstands. One of them even exposed Debbie Reynolds, a Girl Scout. Next thing you know they'll be exposing Ethel Barrymore! ... M-G-M is considering Patty McCormack, who played the murdering little brat in "The Bad Seed," to play Grace Kelly's sharp-tongued kid sister in "High Society," a remake of "The Philadelphia Story" ... Speaking of Her Grace, Clover Productions here in Hollywood isn't wasting any time. The outfit notified the Johnston Office of its decision to make a movie titled "Her Grace and the Prince." Alternate title, "Clover execs announced, will be "The Prince and Her Grace" (how can they miss?) ... Buddy Ebsen's daughter Libby, who's 19, asserted her independence and surprised her pappy by getting a job as salesgirl in Robinson's department store in Beverly Hills ... Overheard: "Has my husband tried Alcoholics Anonymous? I suppose so — after all, he's drunk everything else he could get his hands on!" ... WOWEEEE! — what Helen Hayes said 'and, with all due respect to the First Lady, not another thespian in H'wood believes it!': "What I am as an actress I owe to other actors and actresses" ... TV TOPICS: Gordon Scott, currently "Tarzan" in the movies, will play the same role in the upcoming Tarzan teleseries ... In 1930 the late Robert E. Sherwood said: "The movie industry, once powerful and arrogant, is rapidly being reduced to the position of a subsidiary. It will be part of that vast and superbly organized scheme by which entertainment is to be delivered by television, free of charge, to the multitude within five years" ... That, mind you, was 26 years ago! Mae West has a chimp named Coffee who is fascinated by Bing Crosby's Minute Maid cartoon commercials. Won't leave the room when they're on.

We went back to 1930 in the above paragraph. In 1940 Groucho Marx said in an interview that he had large deductions on his income tax payments because his cab and movie expenses were so high. He explained: "Usually the movies are so bad I use several cabs going from one to another during an evening."

Quent Reynolds finished writing his latest book, "Fiction Factory," out here to Flickerville to make like an actor in Jack Benny's Show-er of Stars Jan. 19 ... I had a 12:30 lunch date with Joan Collins, who had a 1:30 date with an Esquire photographer. "I'm going to wear just a few feet of angora," Joan said. She also explained that the material will be tinted a new color called Tickle Pink ... The Esquire photographer stopped at our table as the hour grew late, to ask Joan how long it would take her to get ready. Replied she, "Just a few seconds — all I have to do is take off my clothes!"

Washington Report

WASHINGTON — The top Democratic leader of Congress is making an unusual legislative proposal to President Eisenhower.

Speaker Sam Rayburn wants the President to model his forthcoming new school-aid program after a Democratic measure that has been pending in the House Rules Committee since last Summer.

Only by such bi-partisan "cooperation," the veteran Texan told the President, is there any chance of putting this long-stymied legislation through Congress.

The measure Rayburn is urging on the President was sponsored by Representative Augustine Kelley (D-Pa.), ranking member of the Education & Labor Committee, and a militant advocate of federal aid for school construction and planning. His main provision is $400,000,000 a year for four years to states and communities for this purpose.

These funds would be allocated solely on a population basis; that is, the number of school-age children in each state. There would be no "test of need."

Kelley's bill excludes the so-called "needs test."

This is one of the key issues in the important backstage maneuvering on this controversial legislation — that has nationwide political ramifications. Both parties are aiming to make campaign capital out of it.

The "needs test" issue is the one factor Speaker Rayburn singled out in his proposition to the President. A bi-partisan accord on that, the Texan asserted, would "immeasurably" facilitate passage of a school-aid program; otherwise, the outcome is very dubious.

INSIDE DETAILS — The dramatic overture to the President was made through a White House assistant with whom Rayburn has been friendly for years.

Their talk took place in the Speaker's private office, and the latter, characteristically, wasted no words in coming to the point. He said he had a message to communicate to the President as soon as possible.

"I want you to tell the President," said Rayburn, "that it is going to be very difficult to get any kind of school-aid legislation through this session of Congress. Perhaps you folks already know that, but if you don't, I'm telling you it. I know, because I've had a careful check made and the prospects are not good. There is a lot of covert opposition on both sides of the aisle."

"That's why I asked you to come here, and why I will appreciate your relaying what I have to say to the President. The only way we can get a school-aid bill through this session is for all who favor it to cooperate 100 per cent. Unless they do, there won't be any legislation. That's the plain fact of the matter. I'm not exaggerating one iota."

The White House assistant voiced assurance the President "is eager to cooperate in any way he can."

"Then he can help immeasurably," declared Rayburn, "by remodeling his own plan after the Kelley bill."

This drew an exclamation from the White House staffman.

"Now, don't get me wrong," explained Rayburn, "partisanship has nothing to do with what I'm talking about. My sole interest is getting something done for our school children, and I'm going on the basis the President wants to do that just as much as I do."

HERE ARE TWO paragraphs about the Russians. Can you guess who wrote them?

"Let it be clearly understood that the Russian is a delightful person till he tucks in his shirt. As an Oriental he is charming. It is only when he insists upon being treated as the most easterly of western peoples instead of the most westerly of easterners that he becomes a racial anomaly extremely difficult to handle. The host never knows which side of his nature is going to turn up next. ... Asia is not going to be civilized after the methods of the West. There is too much of Asia and she is too old. You cannot reform a lady of many lovers, and Asia has been insatiable in her flirtations aforesaid. She will never attend a Sunday school or learn to vote save with swords for tickets."

No, dear reader, the author was neither Winston Churchill nor John Foster Dulles, but Rudyard Kipling, in a story called "The Man Who Was," written way back in 1890!

THE CALIFORNIA WATER & TELEPHONE COMPANY will spend over ten million dollars for additions and improvements to plant in the telephone division during the year 1956.

This is the largest construction program in the history of the company.

Expenditures at the Palm Springs exchange will total six hundred and six thousand dollars.

The largest single item will be $145,000.00 for expanding the central office equipment. Largest outside construction project is $80,000.00 for extending aerial cable to Rancho Mirage. $132,000.00 will be required for telephone installation and special equipment.

As to growth in the Palm Springs exchange — in 1950 there were 5277 telephones and $902,000.000 invested in plant. At year end 1955 there were 9500 telephones and $2,187,000.00 in operating plant.

Ranchos and Folk Dances in Musical

A new musical play about life among the Spanish Californians a century ago, opened at the Padua Hills Theatre near Claremont this week.

"El Censonte Siempre Canta" (Come What May, The Mocking Bird Still Sings) is a comedy written by Eligio Herrera, an authority on Mexican folklore and director of the Mexican Players of the Padua Hills Theatre.

Colorful rancho activities are combined with formal Spanish traditions to depict family affairs at a California hacienda. Lively fiestas of the play reproduce songs and dances which were popular in this area in the early days of this state's settlements.

Many of the dances originated in Southern California, while others are variations of folk dances of Mexico; but all of the dances in this play reflect the influence of classic Spanish dances.

"El Censonte Siempre Canta" will appear at the Padua Hills Theatre six times weekly, Wednesday through Saturday, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees, through February 18.

At "Merienda," an after-theatre party, the audience is invited to meet the Mexican Players and request favorite songs and dances.

Shadow Mountain Club Has First Big Coronation Night

Shadow Mountain Club held its first Coronation Night of this season on Monday evening, with 350 guests watching as Mrs. Helen Sumpter was crowned Queen for the Night.

The Queen, who lives in Palm Springs but originally came from Dayton, Ohio, received an orchid, a congratulatory kiss from Brian Donlevy, and many gifts from Coachella Valley merchants, the Club, and Miss Edith Eddy Ward, who was chairman of the successful affair. Chosen as Princesses were Dr. Minnie Burton, Mrs. Annabelle Gussion and Mrs. Ruby Moore, who also were recipients of gifts.

In acting as chairman of the first coronation Night, which is a regular Monday night feature, Miss Ward was also celebrating an anniversary. This is her ninth year in Palm Desert and the successful realtor has contributed much, both as an individual and as a businesswoman, to the amazing growth of that area.

Miss Ward had as her personal guests Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith of Winnipeg, Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Schill, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Jaynes, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Risold, Mrs. Elsiore Machris Gilliland, Tom Neal, Ed Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Fitts of Salem, Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harstad, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Graettinger, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rashall, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Boyle, and her mother Mrs. Bunny Ward.

Shadow Mountain Club manager Ernie Boudreau welcomed the guests and presented the Todds, Art and Dottie, who are being so warmly welcomed back to the Club this year.

Hazel Sergeant Coronation Night general chairman, acted as mistress of ceremonies for the evening.

Highlighting the evening was the "music of Johnny Boyle," who for 18 years has delighted the desert area residents and visitors with his songs. His lovely wife Tani joined him in singing "Cool, Cool Waters" and the "Hawaiian Wedding Song." Tani danced, as they sang some Hawaiian love songs. During and after dinner, there was dancing to the music of the Todds.

At the Queen's table were: Messers and Mmes. Gil Cornelius, M. H. Miller, Frank H. Kelly, M. R. Essery, Mrs. Rita Williamson Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mitchell had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Robertson MacCartney of Santa Barbara, formerly of Palm Springs. Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Hawaiian Hash

NEW YORK (AP) — Ham left from the holiday still is festive when combined with pineapple. For Hawaiian Hash, combine 2 cups each of cut-up, cooked ham and mashed sweet potatoes. Add a dash of mustard and 1/2 cup of pineapple juice. Pour into a buttered, shallow casserole and top with 8 half-slices of pineapple. Sprinkle with brown sugar and dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes.

To prevent fruit cake from crumbling when slicing, use a sharp, straight-edged, thin-bladed knife. Dip the knife in hot water, then cut with a slow, sawing motion.

If you must substitute general purpose flour for cake flour, here is a guide: sift three times and measure out 2 tablespoons to each cup measure.

University

President is Visitor Here

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University and former Assistant Secretary of Defense, with charming Mrs. Hannah and their son Robert, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield H. Line recently.

President Hannah, in his regime at East Lansing, Michigan, advanced Michigan Agricultural College to Michigan State University, one of the outstanding educational institutions of the country. Besides the presidency of the University, Dr. Hannah is chairman of the Joint Council for Defense of the United States and Canada. His work in this latter connection has taken him frequently to the Arctic this past year, with numerous flights over the North Pole.

The Hannahs were delighted with Palm Springs and the area, and hope to spend more time here in the future. Mr. Line and his wife, Dr. Grace Song Line, who have spent extensive time in Europe the past two years, expect to be at their Winter home here most of the season.

The car says 66 and the price won't stop you!

Invest in Dependability... get a Bonus in Go!

You can buy it on its name alone—this big, high-powered '56 Pontiac—and be safe in the knowledge that you couldn't have made a better investment in years of dependable, carefree motoring.

The good things you've been hearing about Pontiac for years assure you that.

But "go" is the word for '56! Performance so new and dramatic it must be experienced to be believed!

A short spell behind the wheel will nail that statement down as a fact. Come along for a drive and see.

Waiting for the light to change, you can't hear the engine. But touch your toe to the accelerator and in a split second there's a torrent of power, sparked by the most advanced engine of them all—the blazing 227-h.p. Strato-Streak V-8.

Team this terrific power plant with Pontiac's all-new Strato-Flight Hydra-Matic* and you've got the smoothest take-off that ever brightened a highway.

And remember—this easy handling dream is actually among the biggest, huskiest cars built!

Now for the final test—head for the open road and some landmarks you can challenge. Wipe out a hill. Straighten a curve. Smooth out a stretch of rough road that's bothered you for years.

Now see why they're calling this the greatest "go" on wheels?

More than that—it's the greatest buy on wheels! And that too, is easy to prove.

Then take a look at the price tag—a check on our deal.

Nothing will stop this powerful beauty from being yours!

*An extra-cost option.

You can actually have a big, glamorous Pontiac 860 for less than you would pay for 44 models of the low-priced three!

District B.P.W. to be Held Here

The Southern District meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club is being held at El Mirador Hotel in Palm Springs on January 14-15. Members and officers of the Clubs of San Diego, Imperial and Riverside Counties will begin arriving before noon on Saturday for the two-day conference. Hazel Erickson of the Vista Club and President of Southern District will be the presiding officer.

A banquet at 7 p.m. on Saturday will be the highlight of the event. The speaker will be Gladys Anne Sherrin, State President of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Hostess Clubs are Coachella Valley, Palo Verde Valley, San Geronimo, Rubidoux and Occidental Clubs.

General chairman of the meeting is June Childs, junior past president of the Coachella Valley Club. Miss Childs is presently parliamentarian of her local club and membership chairman for Southern District. She has made all of the arrangements for this meeting in Palm Springs and anticipates an attendance of around 230 women.

Stork Shower

The home of Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Huffmann of 2224 Desert Palms was the scene of a pink and blue shower for Mrs. Don Miller Wednesday evening. The affair was co-hosted by Mesdames Ted Land, Don Wexler, Don Bottorff and Wayne Huffmann.

Eighteen guests were included in the party which began at 8 p.m. with a dessert and coffee treat following the presentation of many beautiful gifts to the honored guest.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER Bishopp, who have just returned from a week's business trip in Pasadena had their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arden Dier and grandchildren Debra, David and Daniel Scott, as their houseguests for the weekend.

MRS. EVA ROBERTS and daughter Judy, returned to Palm Springs recently after spending a few weeks vacation with relatives in Dallas, Texas.

Visit Parents

Charles Muller, of the U. S. Navy, and sister, Mary, who attends Ramona Academy at Alhambra, son and daughter of prominent Villagers Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muller, spent the weekend here. Charles was accompanied by Don Williams and Layton Miller who are shipmates on the seaplane tender the U. S. S. Curtiss.

THE WOMEN'S AUXILIARY of the Palm Springs Desert Hospital, represented by its president, Mrs. Charles Farrell, on left, receives a check for $1250 from Mrs. Elsinore Machris Gilliland. The noted philanthropist will break ground within the next few weeks for the hospital which she is building at City of Hope.

Hospital Auxiliary Has Meeting

Mayor Florian Boyd, who is also a director of the hospital, addressed the Women's Auxiliary of Desert Hospital briefly when they held a general meeting in El Paso Theatre on Tuesday afternoon.

Reviewing the history of Desert Hospital, Boyd said that the Auxiliary can be of assistance in seeing that facilities and comforts are three. He also assured cooperation of the hospital board, saying "we will work with you in any way we can."

In answer to a question about why the hospital, which is tax-supported needs additional money for certain items, Boyd explained that while the hospital district can levy a maximum tax of 20 cents on a hundred dollars (it is actually only nine cents this year), that money can only be used for operational expenses and not to pay for capital improvements.

At the meeting it was reported that the proceeds from the Fontana of Rome fashion show luncheon which was staged by Dorothy Gray as a benefit for the Women's Auxiliary, netted $1,179.69.

Mrs. Virginia Farrell, Auxiliary president, who conducted the meeting, has made the following committee appointments: Mrs. Russell Wade, membership; Mrs. Monte Herbert, ways and means; Mrs. J. Ross Clarke, publicity; with Mrs. Ray Corliss as assistant; Mrs. Maurice Horner, Mrs. Arnold Rumwell, Services Committee.

On the ways and means committee are: Mmes. H. J. Brown, Bill Tomberlin, Lloyd Frank, Ed Silverman, Edwin Morris, William Powell, Howard Morris, Samuel Salinger. Membership committee includes: Mmes. Ted Charlton, Edward Thrasher, Barney Hinkle, Sherman Hull, Al Epstein, Boyd Andrews.

Mrs. Arnold Rumwell has been named assistant recording secretary and Mrs. Lee Frank assistant treasurer.

Charter memberships are still open to women living in the Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs, Cathedral City and Rancho Mirage areas.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the board room at the Hospital at 2 p.m. on February 14.

Gaslight Gaieties Coming Up

Tickets will go on sale next week for the Palm Springs Business Women's annual production of "Gaslight Gaieties" which has been in rehearsal since October. It will be staged two successive nights, on February 10 and 11. Tickets will be passed out to Club members on Monday evening at the meeting, which will be held at the Flame Restaurant at 7:30 p.m.

Louise Purnel, who has directed previous productions, will again direct and play the role of the Villain, and Wilma Oertle will play the Heroine. Helen Morris will again delight her fans by appearing in a stellar role in the olio, which will be directed by Mildred Ciano.

Proceeds from this year's show will go to the Guide Dog for the Blind, Inc.

President Mary Sullivan will conduct the business session at Monday night's meeting.

HERE FROM PARIS, France for ten days of sunshine before resuming their travels are Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Bell. He is a noted portrait painter and his wife is distributor of Willoby trailers. They plan to attend the National Trailer Show to be held later in the month in Los Angeles. They are guests at the Las Palmas hotel and arrived in the Village Monday.

Soroptimists See Pictures of Hawaii

Pictures taken in Hawaii were shown at the Soroptimist Club luncheon at Chi Chi on Tuesday by Stanley Jalloff. Mr. Jalloff and his assistant Art Jareit, were presented by Mabel Russell, who was program chairman for the meeting.

Mrs. Toby Curtis, Co-Chairman and treasurer for the March of Dimes drive, spoke on the great importance of making the March of Dimes drive successful in Palm Springs and asked for the assistance of Soroptimist Club.

Polly Isenagie, chairman of Overseas Correspondence, assigned each member the name of a member of the Sister Club in St. Helen's, England, for corresponding.

The Inter Service Club dinner, to be held at Chi Chi on the evening of January 16, was discussed and tickets were passed out among members and guests by Lucille Johnson, who is ticket chairman.

MR. AND MRS. MAYTEN Allen are entertaining their daughter, and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Drobish, and grandchildren Sheryl, Susan, and Sandra, of Lindsay, as houseguests at the present time. The visitors will be here for ten days and came here especially to get a lot of sunshine.

Cadillac

Not Wealthy... Just Wise !

Most people think that the gentleman who owns and drives a new Cadillac must necessarily be blessed with an abundance of this world's goods.

But the truth of the matter is that a great many motorists of relatively modest means—like the happy man you see here—sit at the wheel of the "car of cars."

For wisdom and practicality lead to Cadillac—just as surely as prominence and prosperity!

Listen, for a moment, to this remarkable assembly of facts—and see if you don't agree.

The Series Sixty-Two Coupe . . . the beautiful and inspiring motor car pictured above . . . costs just a few dollars more than many cars in the "medium-price" bracket.

Cadillac's dependability is so extraordinary that the car is virtually free from all but the purely routine requirements of service.

A Cadillac stretches a gallon of gasoline over so many miles that it is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in this regard.

And a Cadillac will retain its value over the years better than any other automobile in the land.

The conclusion is, we think, self-evident: Cadillac ownership is not only wonderful and thrilling—but sound and sensible as well.

Why not stop in soon for a look and a ride?

You'll discover the most beautiful Cadillac ever built . . . the finest-performing Cadillac of all time . . . and the greatest value in Cadillac history.

That's Cadillac's magical combination for 1956—and it's waiting for you now in our showroom.

Police, Fire Eligibility Exams Set for Friday

Application for examination to establish an eligibility list for police patrolmen and firemen must be on City Manager Robert W. Peterson's desk by midnight tonight. Applications in mail to-night will be considered.

The tests will be conducted tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. in the Palm Springs council chambers near the airport.

The jobs differ in pay and qualification requirements.

POLICE CANDIDATES must be 21-35 years old, at least 5 feet, 8 inches tall, and 160 in weight.

Their salary range starts at $318 a month and elevates to $390, augmented by vacation pay and sick leave benefits.

Both patrolmen and firemen are required to have an actual or equivalent high school education.

FIREMEN CANDIDATES must be at least 18 years old, and have a top limit of 35. No physical requirements have been set down for firemen.

Pay for firemen is $303-$371 a month, with the same vacation and sick leave benefits as patrolmen.

The exam will be made in four sections: written, oral, agility and medical. Medical examination is required before employment.

Thrifty Marks Anniversary Gigantic Sale

Wayne McFadin, manager of the Thrifty Drug Store at 366 South Palm Canyon Drive, today announced that the store will celebrate its anniversary this month with a gigantic Anniversary Sale and celebration.

Special merchandise has been selected from every department and included at greatly reduced prices in the huge Anniversary Sale. Each item is selected because it has been popular with local residents, and is priced to offer real savings on high quality merchandise.

Thrifty's buyers have gone throughout the country and obtained exceptional merchandise buys to be featured only during the Anniversary Sale. With the money-saving event ending January 21, local residents are urged to visit Thrifty while the supplies of all special items are adequate.

"We look forward to our Anniversary Sale each year as another opportunity to offer our loyal patrons sensational values," said McFadin. "We hope to greet every one of our customers during this event and celebrate our anniversary together."

In birthday greetings sent to the store during their Anniversary celebration, Manny Borun, vice president of Thrifty Drug Stores Company, said, "Congratulations on another year of service to your community, and good luck throughout the coming year."

Improper Lane Changing Causes 1,000 Accidents

Changing lanes in traffic without proper caution, and inadequate signals are causing a thousand traffic accidents a year in California, according to reports kept by the California Highway Patrol.

"Traffic rules covering lane changing require drivers to first make sure the change can be made with reasonable safety," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "It is then necessary to give the proper arm or turn light signal before changing lanes. This signal should be given for a considerable distance to allow other drivers ample time to cope with the lane change and avoid accident trouble."

There is always a degree of hazard connected with lane changing in traffic, even when traffic is light," Caldwell continued. "To avoid accidents while changing lanes, be alert, obey the rules, and cooperate with other drivers who may be affected by the move."

SPORTSMAN BOB HOWARD congratulates C. S. Raymond on building Palm Springs' swimming pool No. 1000 for Mrs. Henry Clark. Mrs. Clark, formerly of Phoenix, Arizona, was gifted with a bottle of champagne from Howard.

Mrs. Henry Clark Is Winner of Champagne 'Pool' Offer

While Florida was in the throes of a numbing cold wave, Sportsman Bob Howard was honoring the builder of Palm Springs' 1000th swimming pool.

Howard, famed as owner of Palm Springs' Howard Manor, presented a bottle of champagne to Mrs. Henry Clark, of 410 Via Entrada, as a prize for being the recipient of swimming pool building permit No. 1000.

Mrs. Clark, whose son, Jeff Bucklew, graduates from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis in June, came to Palm Springs from Phoenix, Arizona.

Howard is campaigning to bring Palm Springs national recognition as the "swimming pool city." Howard Manor's stationery describes the desert resort city in just that way.

London's Buses are Really Lively

LONDON — London's buses apparently have been livelier than the pubs the past few days. In three separate court cases Monday:

A bus conductor was fined $1.40 for settling an argument between two passengers by pushing one of them down in his seat.

A girl paid a $8.04 fine for pushing a bus conductor down the steps of his double-decker vehicle.

And, a man paid a $28 fine for slugging a conductor on the jaw and knocking him the length of the bus.

Palm Springs is said to have the world's highest per capita swimming pool rate, one for every 12 residents. Recently, the City Building Department revealed that 173 new pools, with a valuation of $695,000, were built in Palm Springs in 1955, raising the total to 999.

Desert Museum Afternoon Show Set for Friday

The Desert Museum—a Community Chest sponsored agency—will continue its series of special afternoon programs for children with the outstanding R. K. O. film of Africa entitled "Savage Splendor," Dr. C. E. Smith, director, announces. This film will be shown at 4 p. m., tomorrow, and again at 8 p. m. Youngsters from Junior High through High school age are especially invited, as the film is not particularly suitable for those of younger age.

Saturday's field trip is another in the "Trips to Nowhere" series. The party will leave the Museum at 10 a. m.

The Guest Lecture program Saturday evening in Frances Stevens School will present George M. Roy, certified gemologist, in an illustrated talk on "Desert Gems and Minerals."

The public is cordially invited to these various presentations, Dr. Smith said.

Adult Forum to Present Four Lectures by Dr. Bietz

Dr. Arthur L. Bietz, psychological consultant, author and lecturer, will present a series of four lectures in February in the Adult Education Forum series of the Palm Springs Unified School District, it was announced today.

The series will commence on Thursday, February 2, and continue on each Thursday in February in the auditorium of the Frances Stevens School at 8 p. m.

The general theme for Dr. Bietz's lecture series will be "Life and Personality Growth." Closely adhering to the theme, Dr. Bietz will present to his audiences a concentrated offering in four areas of personality problems, and these will be the subjects of the lectures.

THE FOUR TOPICS in the series will be: "How to face the real issues of life," "Learning to make decisions," "How to help each other," and "Knowing your own worth."

Dr. Bietz has been in demand as a speaker in various parts of the United States. In his single and series lectures on psychology and subjects relating to sociological or political problems he helps his hearers to view their common problems from the point of view of the factors in their psychological or human natures.

In addition to being a scholar of note, he has a magnetic personality and he presents his material in a human and witty style.

DR. BIETZ HAS the M. A. and Ph. D. from the University of Southern California. He is associated with the American Psychological Association and a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is a professor and clinical psychologist at White Memorial Hospital and School of Medicine. He is the author of six books which closely relate to the topics of his local lecture series.

The entire series of lectures is free and the public is cordially invited to attend. The Adult Education Forum is an offering of the Palm Springs Adult Evening School, which receives partial support from the state school fund on the basis of attendance.

Pays But Objects to Collection Plan

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. —A delinquent taxpayer, signing his name "John Doe", mailed $550 to state officials with the explanation:

"I think the tax is fair but I despise the inconvenience and red tape . . . so I just don't do it. When will this damned method of this tax collection be changed and simplified."

Mrs. Medor and Her Ten Children Go to Germany

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — A few dozen people in scattered and strategic government offices took time out this week to worry about Mrs. Catherine Medor and her 10 children.

Mrs. Medor merely wanted to move. As a result, she got the combined assistance of the Army, the Air Force and the American Red Cross.

The Medors' moving problem in one way was typical of that of thousands of other American families. Sgt. Guilford Medor is stationed with the Air Force in Germany. His family is entitled to join him.

BUT 10 CHILDREN, from the ages of four months to 14 years, lifts a family moving problem out of the routine file, even for mass-moving specialists like the U. S. government.

"The only thing we didn't arrange for Mrs. Medor was a medal for bravery," sighed one Army private first class at Fort Hamilton, "the Brooklyn location of the overseas replacement station."

Mrs. Medor, 31, the 10 children and 12 suitcases left home in Swanton, Vt., by bus last Tuesday. The adjutant general in Washington, D. C., had notified the commanding general of the First Army to see that the trip began and ended smoothly. So the Red Cross took over the bus trip arrangements.

Ethan Allen Air Force Base in Burlington, Vt., saw that the 11 passengers got aboard a commercial air liner to go by air to La Guardia Field.

AS THE MEDORS trooped down the plane ramp here, they spied the first of a succession of Army escorts. A special Army bus was waiting to take them to Fort Hamilton.

Was Mrs. Medor harried? Not at all. She handed her youngest, an 18-pound baby girl, to the nearest private and marvelled: "I've never been in an airplane before. It's wonderful."

Three rooms were set aside for them in the hotel for dependents at the replacement station, and Mrs. Medor appeared promptly at the processing section with the 10 children neatly dressed and obedient.

"THE THING YOU should do when you take children on a trip is explain to them what is going to happen so they won't be frightened," the attractive slightly plump, mother said placidly.

Normally the 150,000 dependents processed annually at the embarkation base spend two or three days getting necessary tests and clearance. Mrs. Medor was given "priority No. 1" and rushed through in one day.

Prudential Co. Sets Dividend Amount for 1956

Prudential Insurance Co. will pay or credit its individual policyholders with $206,500,000 in dividends during 1956, it was announced yesterday by the company's board of directors.

This amount, which will go to holders of individual life insurance, annuity or sickness and accident contracts, represents an increase of $37,000,000 over 1955 payments, according to the company.

Eight million dollars of the increase is attributed to the greater amount of insurance now in force and $29,000,000 to liberalized dividend scales, which have the effect of reducing the cost of insurance to policyholders.

"The liberalization does not apply uniformly to all policies, because of differences in premium rates and other policy features," the company said. "However, in most cases this year's dividend will be greater than that credited last year."

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP)—Sandy Sadler, the world's foremost fistic globe trotter, has an important embargo in the San Francisco Cow Palace next Wednesday and it promises to be a rough night for one Gabriel Flash Elorde.

Gabriel is the 22-year-old Filipino who outpointed Sadler in an overweight match in Manila last Summer. His reward, or, possibly, retribution, is a shot at Sadler's featherweight crown.

For Sadler is noted as a determined pugilist who wins the big ones and, before the night ends, the odds indicate that Gabriel won't be hearing horns, or anything else.

The 22-year-old Elorde, who stands five feet, six inches, is rated a fine boxer. But he is strictly "good field, no hit," with only 11 knockouts in 38 winning bouts. Two others were draws and he was flattened once.

HE WILL DISCOVER swiftly, however, why Sadler is such a globe trotter. The answer is that Sandy is too tough and can't get opponents at home.

Sadler, at five feet, nine inches, is too tall and has too much reach for featherweight opponents who usually stretch to reach five feet, six inches. At 29, he still is remarkably rapid and he punches like a middleweight.

Proof of that is his record of 99 knockouts in 142 winning bouts, a horizontal percentage of better than 60 per cent. He also has lost 14 and fought two draws.

This is one of the fanciest knock-out records in the ring today and demonstrates clearly why opponents are so elusive.

It also explains why Sandy does more traveling than the neighborhood lawn mower.

That has been plenty, too. In scraping up enough willing rivals, Sadler has fought in 17 states and 13 countries.

SANDY HAS SLAPPED 'em down in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Louisiana, District of Columbia, Michigan, Minnesota, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, California and Washington.

He also has shouldered his steamer trunk and displayed his punching prowess in England, France, Hawaii, The Philippines, Venezuela, Argentina, Chile, The Dutch West Indies, Panama, Cuba, Mexico and Canada.

Against Elorde he aims to prove once again that travel is flattening as well as broadening. His tiny southpaw rival was born on the island of Cebu, 250 miles south of Manila, to where he migrated after starting as an amateur at 15. In Manila he married the daughter of Lope Carrao, the local fight promoter, and for one reason or another he soon had top billing.

But Sandy, remembering that Manila loss, has a prophetic gleam in his eye. The title is his passport and there are a few spots he hasn't seen. So Elorde figures as the first punch on the new ticket.

Prince of Greine in Debut Today

ARCADIA (AP)—Neil S. McCarthy's Prince of Greine an Irish-bred stakes winner in England and a candidate for the Santa Anita Derby made first start in this country in today's $7500 University of California Allowances.

Prince of Greine was ridden by Jimmy Mullane, an Irish jockey making his debut at Santa Anita Park. Mullane rode Arctic Wind to victory in the 1954 Irish 2000 Guineas.

Other three-year-olds going post-ward in the six furlong event included five Derby Eligibles—Blen Host, Focus, Lets Match, Mobile and Placer. The other runner, Fathers Risk, was not a Derby nominee. Mobile loomed as the favorite.

Neva T., powerful California-bred filly, showed her heels to a classy field Wednesday as she sped to victory in the $17,300 Santa Ynez Stakes. Neva T. raced the six furlongs in 1:11 and returned $13, $6 and $4.50. Mrs. Muriel L. was second and Yutta third.

MODERN GOLF

By DALE ANDREASON
Golf Instructor at El Mirador Hotel

Balance in any sport is important but in golf it is the basic fundamental of a sound swing.

When a golfer takes his or her stance and places the club behind the ball, the head, shoulders, arms and hands are forward and down thus causing an off balance position toward the toes. In order to counter-balance this awkward position, bend the knees and sit back until you feel nicely balanced and can wind and unwind the body freely.

It is extremely important to remember that the weight should be toward the heels, never on the toes.

Girls' Basketball Squads Lose to Beaumont Teams

Two Palm Springs High School Girls' Athletic Association basketball teams traveled to Beaumont Tuesday to lose to Beaumont High School G. A. A. teams. Gretchen Gerhart, was defeated 25-18, and the underclass team lost 22-11. The latter team was captained by Helen Romero. Both teams, now in the midst of field hockey practice, were coached by Moya Henderson, girls physical education instructor at the high school.

THE G. A. A. varsity got off to a very slow start, and though they continually narrowed the margin, were unable to overcome opposition by the end of the last time period. This was the first game for both the teams, varsity and underclass, while Beaumont had played quite a few previous competition games.

Leading scorer for the varsity was Gretchen Gerhart, with eight points and leading scorer for the other Palm Springs group was Cindy Hall, with six points.

MEMBERS OF THE teams were as follows:

Varsity: Florence Black, Stephanie Bruton, Gretchen Gerhart, Marguerita Godinez, Emily Graham, Shirley Larkin, June Lehman, Virginia Marmalejo, Peggy Schuler, Janet Schofield and Sharon Smith.

Underclass: Alvaleen Anderson, Diana Ebarte, Nancy Gardner, Lynn Gerhart, Cindy Hall, Wendy Hammond, Hazel Micelli, Connie O'Hara, Helen Romero, Vickie Sanders, Nancy Sutton and Irene Walburg.

No future date has been set for competition, and the basketballers may have played their last game at the same time they played their first.

Hockey is in the limelight right now.

MORRISON ON GOLF EASY WAY TO IMPROVE SWING

All golfers from beginners to champions can greatly improve their swings simply by practicing the Morrison Exercise of Knee-Level Swinging. This develops fundamentals of the Correct Swing.

By ALEX J. MORRISON
Author of "A New Way to Better Golf," Teacher of Champions

TODAY'S instructions are simple and easy to follow. This declaration starts us with the greatest understatement we can make. The instructions cover the Morrison method of handling the most important part of golf, namely, the swing.

When it comes to following these instructions we feel that there should be none of the usual excuses such as, "I don't understand them," "I haven't the time," or "I don't see what good they would do me." Even if you have in mind these or similar excuses you should not hesitate to give this exercise a fair trial. All you have to do is stand fully erect, head and eyes up, with any club or substitute held so that the clubhead is above the level of your knees, then make several swings back and forth at this level without stopping.

Yes, it is very much like the old baseball swing, but much more helpful. Stop and think. All you are required to do is stand fully erect and keep the clubhead above the level of your knees. Of course this is just the beginning, yet it is ample to put you on the road to correct swinging. It is the easiest way of getting the notion and feel of a swinging action.

THE CORRECT SWING, as first described in the Morrison System, is one continuous motion without mental or physical interruption from start to finish. When swinging back and forth above the level of your knees you can approximate the Correct

26 Yachts to Enter Race to Acapulco

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Some 26 yachts are expected to take part in the third biennial 1,431-mile San Diego-to-Acapulco yacht race, which begins here at noon Sunday.

Occidental Defeats Whittier 80 to 60

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Center Dick Sovde scored 25 points and forward Ted Tiffany tallied 24 points Wednesday night to lead Occidental to an 80-60 win over Whittier in a Southern California Inter-collegiate Athletic Conference basketball game. Oxy led at the half, 40-34.

Occidental now has a 2-0 league record.

Hogan Out of Retirement to Play Friday

Desert Area Golf Enthusiasts Among Tourney Entries

Ben Hogan, former teaching and host professional at Tamarisk Country Club and who is known as Mr. Golf, will emerge from golf retirement tomorrow when he and Bing Crosby tee off at Cypress Point for the first day of the three day $15,000 Pro-Amateur Crosby Invitational tournament.

Besides Hogan and the golfer-singer, other Palm Springs golfers are going to the Del Monte Forest course, called Pebble Beach. The first two days of golf will be played on Cypress Point and Monterey Peninsula Courses, and the last day a reduced field will play Pebble Beach, Crosby's own links.

Among the golfers leaving from Thunderbird and Tamarisk Country Clubs are Phil Harris, Milt Hicks, Johnny Dawson, J. Ross Clark, Porky Oliver, and Ed Vines.

The affair will field a group of golfers that will include the best in the amateur and professional golf world, including recent Rancho winner Lloyd Mangrum, who was honorary captain of the Ryder Cup team at Thunderbird last November; and Jack Fleck, 1955 Open Golf Champion.

Desert Sun special correspondent Lynn Emerick will write her impressions of the tournament for Palm Springs golf fans who would like to know how all Village players are making out.

Gate receipts are given to all charitable causes in the Del Monte Forest area.

Italian Welter in First U. S. Bout

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Giancarlo Garbelli, welterweight from Milan, Italy, makes his stateside debut in tonight's scheduled 10-round main event at Olympic Auditorium against Tombstone Smith.

Garbelli, who has lost only twice in 50 professional starts, hopes to use his battle against Smith as a springboard to bigger American assignments. Off his record, he figures to rule as a 2-1 favorite. But he will be spotting Smith nearly a half-foot in height.

Smith, although not vastly experienced, has won his last 11 starts and with his height and reach advantage, plus his speed, shapes up as a tough opponent for the Italian boxer.

Crisler Believes Public is Satisfied with Grid Rules

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fritz Crisler, athletic director at University of Michigan, thinks that the public and the coaches are happy with the present football rules—as a group, that is. But the old-time coach admits that in the 60 proposed changes, there will, as usual, be a few dandies.

"There always are a few specials that crop up every year," he explains.

"Like somebody always comes up with the suggestion that the game be played in innings; or that only so many players be allowed each game; or that the clock be kept running at the end of the game to stop all the silly time-outs.

"I EVEN CAME UP with an idea a couple of years ago that I thought was a dandy.

"I suggested that on the try for point after touchdown, that one point be allowed if the man kicked the ball through the uprights, and two points if he ran the ball or tossed a pass that went into the end zone.

"But this didn't get much consideration and I'm not going to suggest it again."

He said that some coaches may suggest that they be allowed to talk to their players during a time-out, but he personally would oppose this.

"After all, we in college football should be building confidence in our quarterbacks and they should not be running to the sidelines for help," he added.

THERE MAY BE A suggestion that a different type of lettering be used on players' uniforms—one that could be seen by the public more easily.

That recalled to him the days at Minnesota when players first were ordered to wear numbers on uniforms. "Coach Doc Williams was a bitter foe of numbering on uniforms," Crisler remembered. "So for the first game he trotted out big broad shouldered tackles with numbers that ran to four or five digits like 35,333.

"This so confused everyone that a rule was instituted limiting the space that could be used and the size of the numerals."

Campbell Plans 250 MPH Record

LONDON (AP)—Water speed king Donald Campbell, who set the world mark of 216 miles per hour over Lake Mead, Nev., last Fall, says he'll try to raise the record to 250 MPH this year and keep ahead of the American competition. "I have a profound respect for American engineers and pilots," he told a luncheon group, "but at the moment we have a lead on them, and if we are to keep that lead, then we have got to get working."

BARGAINS... with Value!

ARTISTIC "Old World Charm" with EVERY modern convenience. This five bedroom, four bath house is the type families are always looking for. For instance, the master bath has a sunken tub and shower. A gay wife-saver kitchen has a yellow Holly eye-level oven and range — the kitchen's complete from dishwasher garbage disposal down to a huge maple chopping block! The family room has a fireplace-barbecue. There's an English type "Pub" for Dad. The acorn shaped pool is family size too, 45' long. Payne forced air heat in the home too. $34,950 furnished.

LIVE ON TOP OF THE WORLD — LIVE IN LAS PALMAS ESTATES! Four bedroom and five bath home that's equipped by the owner without consideration of cost. The fireplace in the living room is a masterpiece. The television cable is in — the B I G screen television set is included with the furnishings. There's a beautiful south patio and large pool, which is heated and filtered. Grounds are artistically landscaped and completely walled. Duplication of home in this area, plus furnishings, at this price would be impossible. This is a bargain and the owner is offering very good terms. Priced at $52,500, furnished.
